Finding The Right Venue

M&MR has an in-depth understanding of the kind of venue required for Family Fun Days. Whatever you are looking for, a country house hotel, a recommended hotel chain, a rugby club, or simply a field - we guarantee to offer you a comprehensive selection of venues to match your requirements, tastes and budget. This essential formula is part of our FREE service, allowing us to remove the hassle of ensuring the rooms or grounds are the right size and format for what you're planning. Our highly experienced team will identify your exact needs and requirements, we will then secure the venue, and forward a detailed confirmation to you, together with location maps and any other special requests you may have.

As part of our service, we can arrange a full site inspection to ensure that all your expectations and criteria are met. If required, we can also accompany you on these visits, offering you the additional benefit of our years of experience.

Infrastructure

M&MR has vast experience in bringing together all the elements you will need and to make sure your day runs smoothly. In addition to choosing the site, you'll need to consider

Plus much more .....let us take care of it all for you!

Catering

Like any event, one of the first things people recall is the food. Whether your event is big or small, guests will need to be fed – if the event is more than five hours in duration you may want to consider feeding them more than once!

We can provide the right catering to suit you, whether it's a formal silver-service buffet, snacks or even just burger vans and ice cream. If the event is themed, so too can be the catering. If there are a high proportion of children, or a particular dietary requirement, we are very happy to assist in addressing these issues. Beverage consumption must be considered too, whether providing just soft drinks or a full open bar.

Entertainers

A vital and often-overlooked part of the mix, these types of entertainments can ensure children are kept enthralled all day, even freeing up harassed parents to give them time to enjoy themselves too! Musicians, strolling artistes and children's entertainers add colour and atmosphere to your event at little extra cost.

Funfair & Sideshows

Wonderful activities to provide a huge 'wow' factor for guests, these provide the noise and colour to brighten any location, and a visually stunning backdrop to the main event.

Participation Activities

In addition to passive entertainment, you will want to actively entertain your guests! This can take many formats from organised group challenges – such as "It's A Knockout!", Human Table Football or Tug 'o War – to individual 'come & have a go' activities such as Inflatable Sumo Wrestling, Surf Simulator, Laser Clay Shooting or even Welly Wanging! Family activities such as Pot Throwing, "Gardener's Corner" or even flights in a tethered hot air balloon are a great investment, as are some indoor activities in case of inclement weather!

Displays & Demonstrations

Arena displays are real crowd-pleasers and can range from falconry to dog handling or from marching bands to clown cars. How about a "big finish" involving jousting, parachute displays or a giant car-crushing monster truck?

Branding

To increase the festival atmosphere and enhance your company name, why not dress your guests and the site in company colours and logo. This can be achieved by simply decking out the site in company-branded balloons, banners and bunting, or carrying that through to giveaways such as branded badges, baseball caps, gifts and prizes.

"Just wanted to thank you for all your help and organisation..."

It seems you have received nothing less than glowing praise from everyone so thank you for the energy and commitment that made that possible."

"Thank very much for all the work you and your teams out in. The feedback has been super and many people said how well you and your teams worked to make it flow so well."
