

Exhibitions

M&MR has delivered countless exhibitions, varying in size from a small stand as part of a shell scheme to complete bespoke stand design, construction, venue sourcing, delegate registration and complete audio visual support.

Exhibitions are a perfect showcase opportunity to display your products and services but with only a brief window to capture a potential client's imagination you need to be focused on the task rather than worried about the stand, whether the merchandise will arrive or indeed if you have enough time to set everything up! M&MR take all of these worries and concerns away, leaving you the very simple task of simply turning up, giving you the maximum opportunity to utilise the potential prospects available.

Stand Design

From a simple pull up stand through to pop up stands and complete bespoke stand construction, M&MR has seen it numerous times and delivered faultlessly. We can design and produce any style of stand and will even store and maintain your stand for you. We also have a large amount of 'stand essential equipment' in stock that include the vital furniture, literature presentation equipment and audio visual equipment to finish and complement your stand perfectly.

Audio Visual Support

Designing and printing a stand is just the tip of the iceberg when it comes to bringing your exhibition space to life and getting the most out of the attendees that visit your stand. Plasma screens, intelligent lighting, laptops with internet access to your website and complete product demonstrations all require technical support and M&MR provide this service with ease and clarity. Onsite technicians who are present throughout the exhibition ensure that you don't have to worry about replacing that bulb or losing your internet connection as you have an expert on hand.

Road Shows

Road shows are an increasingly popular way of getting you in front of your customers and clients without the geographic constraints of a fixed location. In principle this appears to be a simple task however behind the scenes you need to source multiple venues, negotiate contracts, liaise with local authorities and this is before you even consider logistics, staff management and marketing. M&MR are experts in this field and have used a whole variety of venues, from hotels to shopping centres and race circuits, offering total management of the complete road show.
